Nortel brand simplification initiative

Contivity* rebranding bulletin

At Nortel, we constantly listen to our customers. Recent feedback indicates that customers want it to be easier to do business with us. One step we are taking is to simplify our brand naming process to streamline the way we market products, services, and solutions. Products will no longer reflect a marketing brand. Product names will be converted to easily understood terminology according to the functionality they provide your network.

This is to alert you that all products in the Contivity portfolio will transition to the brand simplified naming format. This will be effective December 6, 2004. Below is a list of new and “formerly known as” names for your quick reference. All existing Contivity documentation, user guides, etc, are still valid. These materials will be updated to reflect the new product names as needed. Additionally, you can log on to www.nortel.com/brandchanges for more information.

Please note: We are not eliminating products; rather, improving the way we name them. You will still experience the same technology innovation, service, and support you have come to expect from Nortel.
